

RELIGIOUS.

THE EVANGELICAL ALLIANCE.
INTERESTING SERVICES AT THE FIFTH-AVE. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. (THE REV. DR. HALL'S)—ADDRESSES BY THE REV. WILLIAM ADAMS, JOHN COTTON SMITH, JOHN HALL, AND OTHERS.

The interest that is felt in our religious community concerning the Evangelical Alliance was plainly manifested last night at the Fifth-ave. Presbyterian Church. Although the weather had been of such an inclement nature during the afternoon, it had no effect on the attendance at the church in the evening. Every seat was occupied, and in the aisle chairs had to be placed to accommodate the immense congregation that assembled. The services commenced by the congregation singer, a young hymn, after which the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Hall, read the 33d Psalm, and offered an eloquent prayer.

The President of the Alliance, the Hon. Wm. E. Dodge, after making a few remarks in which he congratulated the assembly on their unanimity in their efforts to form a bond of unity in the church of Christ, introduced the Rev. Dr. Prichard, secretary of the Association. The Reverend man said that he did not appear before you for the purpose of making any address, but his duty was to explain the object of the organization, and to give them some idea of the vast amount of Christian work which it was accomplishing. The Evangelical Alliance has supplied the churches with an organized body for carrying on correspondence and promoting education among Christians in all countries, and to establish living and dying correspondence with the followers of Christ in every nation.

This dwelling of the Holy Ghost, said, is now the home of the true Christian, who abides in him and God's condescending Almoseness. Father Morill concluded with an exhortation to his hearers to bear his name in their hearts, and to remember the truth of the Scriptures.

The President of the Alliance, the Hon. Wm. E. Dodge, after making a few remarks in which he congratulated the assembly on their unanimity in their efforts to form a bond of unity in the church of Christ, introduced the Rev. Dr. Prichard, secretary of the Association.

The Rev. Mr. Prichard said that they had not hesitated openly to express their disapprobation of the services.

Father Morill preached from the 16th chapter of St. John, 16th verse: "He dwelt with you, and you shall be with me." The speaker said that the mission of the Holy Ghost was the crowning or perfecting act of redeeming love. Before the Ascension no human being had been able to appropriate to himself the justifying and sanctifying power of the gospel, but when the spirit of the Holy Ghost was sent down without delay to apply to believing the benefits of the incarnation, and to organize the church, the Holy Ghost was sent to her soul and to her through the assemblage of beings which compose the church of which Christ is the head. It is because of the Divine Head and her Divine Spirit that the church of Christ is indeed made up.

The preacher then instance many of the more remarkable manifestations of the Holy Spirit during the Jewish dispensation, but declared that he had never stooped to the greatest of those under the cross.

Everything in the life of Christ, he said, was a sacrifice.

The ritual could not be adopted without also adopting, if not at once, eventually the religion of the ritual. Applying the text, he said, the church of Rome had lost its soul. It had said the Church of Rome had lost its soul.

The great good, and impelled them to "stand in awe" of themselves "sin not," for they were the dwelling of the Holy Ghost.

MORNING STAR SUNDAY SCHOOL—INTERESTING PROCEEDINGS—PRESENTATION OF BANNERS—ADDRESSES AND SINGING.

The public exercises of the Morning Star Sunday-school, held at Apollo Hall, yesterday afternoon, were of an unusually interesting character, and despite the rain attracted a large audience. The meeting was called to order by the Rev. Dr. Perry, and the exercises commenced by singing, followed by reading of the Scriptures by Dr. Perrin, and the singing of the Twenty-ninth Psalm.

The singing of "The Children's Litany" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.

The first speaker was Mr. G. B. Bass, who presented to the school a banner and, on a handsome staff, which church emblem, mutual courtesy, and the date of the meeting, was given.

Mr. Dodge said he hoped that the Secretaries would not fail to make known the names of the persons who had been invited to be present at the general Conference of the Christian church.

The singing of "The Hallelujah Chorus" was sung, a feature of which was a solo by Mrs. H. W. Conklin, the wife of the grandest Methodist celebrity in the country.